STRATEGIC • NARRATIVE • SECOND ACT ARCHITECTURE for Leaders, Executives, Founders & Athletes at the Edge of Their Next Chapter with Sara Oblak Speicher, MBA

You've held ten timelines at once. Built, led, cared, created. You've succeeded beyond most people's imagination.

Then, when the company is sold, the jersey is retired, and uncertainty keeps us awake at night, or the old narrative no longer fits...most high-performers respond the same way they always have: more effort, more inputs, more pressure.

And this is where things start to break. Decisions slow down, pricing slips, direction fragments, and the cost compounds quietly.

This is where we stop the drift...

The 72 hours of architecture in the 1,000-year-old Alpine sanctuary in Slovenia is designed to stabilize your leadership, realign the business engine, and to anchor the legacy...bridging the gap between past achievements and intentional future. So what you've built doesn't become the thing that limits what comes next

Welcome

Understanding the visceral cycles of reinvention and the true cost of evolution, I work with leaders and elite performers at the point where what worked no longer holds. Identity, career, business, life...

I architect the infrastructure, narrative, transitions and second acts differently.

My approach is forged at the intersection of elite athletics and the high-pressure & fast-moving ecosystem of New York City, tempered by European outlook on life human-first approach, and commitment to sustainability.

Every step of the way, my priority is ensuring the next level doesn't cost you more than it's worth.

Sara

Strategic Advisor. Narrative & Second Act Architect. Stabilizer.

Let this 1000-year-old space hold you

Distance changes what you can see, and what you're willing to decide.

Held in one of Slovenia's oldest and energetically-potent towns, this is a pause with absolute purpose. Between these stone walls, cobbled streets, and the stillness of the Alps, the strategic noise of your daily life evaporates.

Here, we gain the spaciousness and timelessness required to see your life and business as a cohesive monument, not a series of fires to be extinguished.

Pathway 1:

STRATEGIC VANTAGE POINT

Strategic architecture & operational recalibration

Reserved for the leader navigating institutional transition, global expansion, or sudden visibility. We stabilize decision-making, realign strategic priorities, and reduce the operational noise that is currently costing you time, money, and clarity. Especially during periods of volatility and high-stakes decision-making.

THE WORK:

3 days of high-intensity diagnostic and structural design. We realign your business model, leadership communication, and market positioning with your current (global) status.

THE DELIVERABLES:

You walk away with the custom strategic roadmap for you and your team. Clear decisions. Defined direction. No second-guessing.

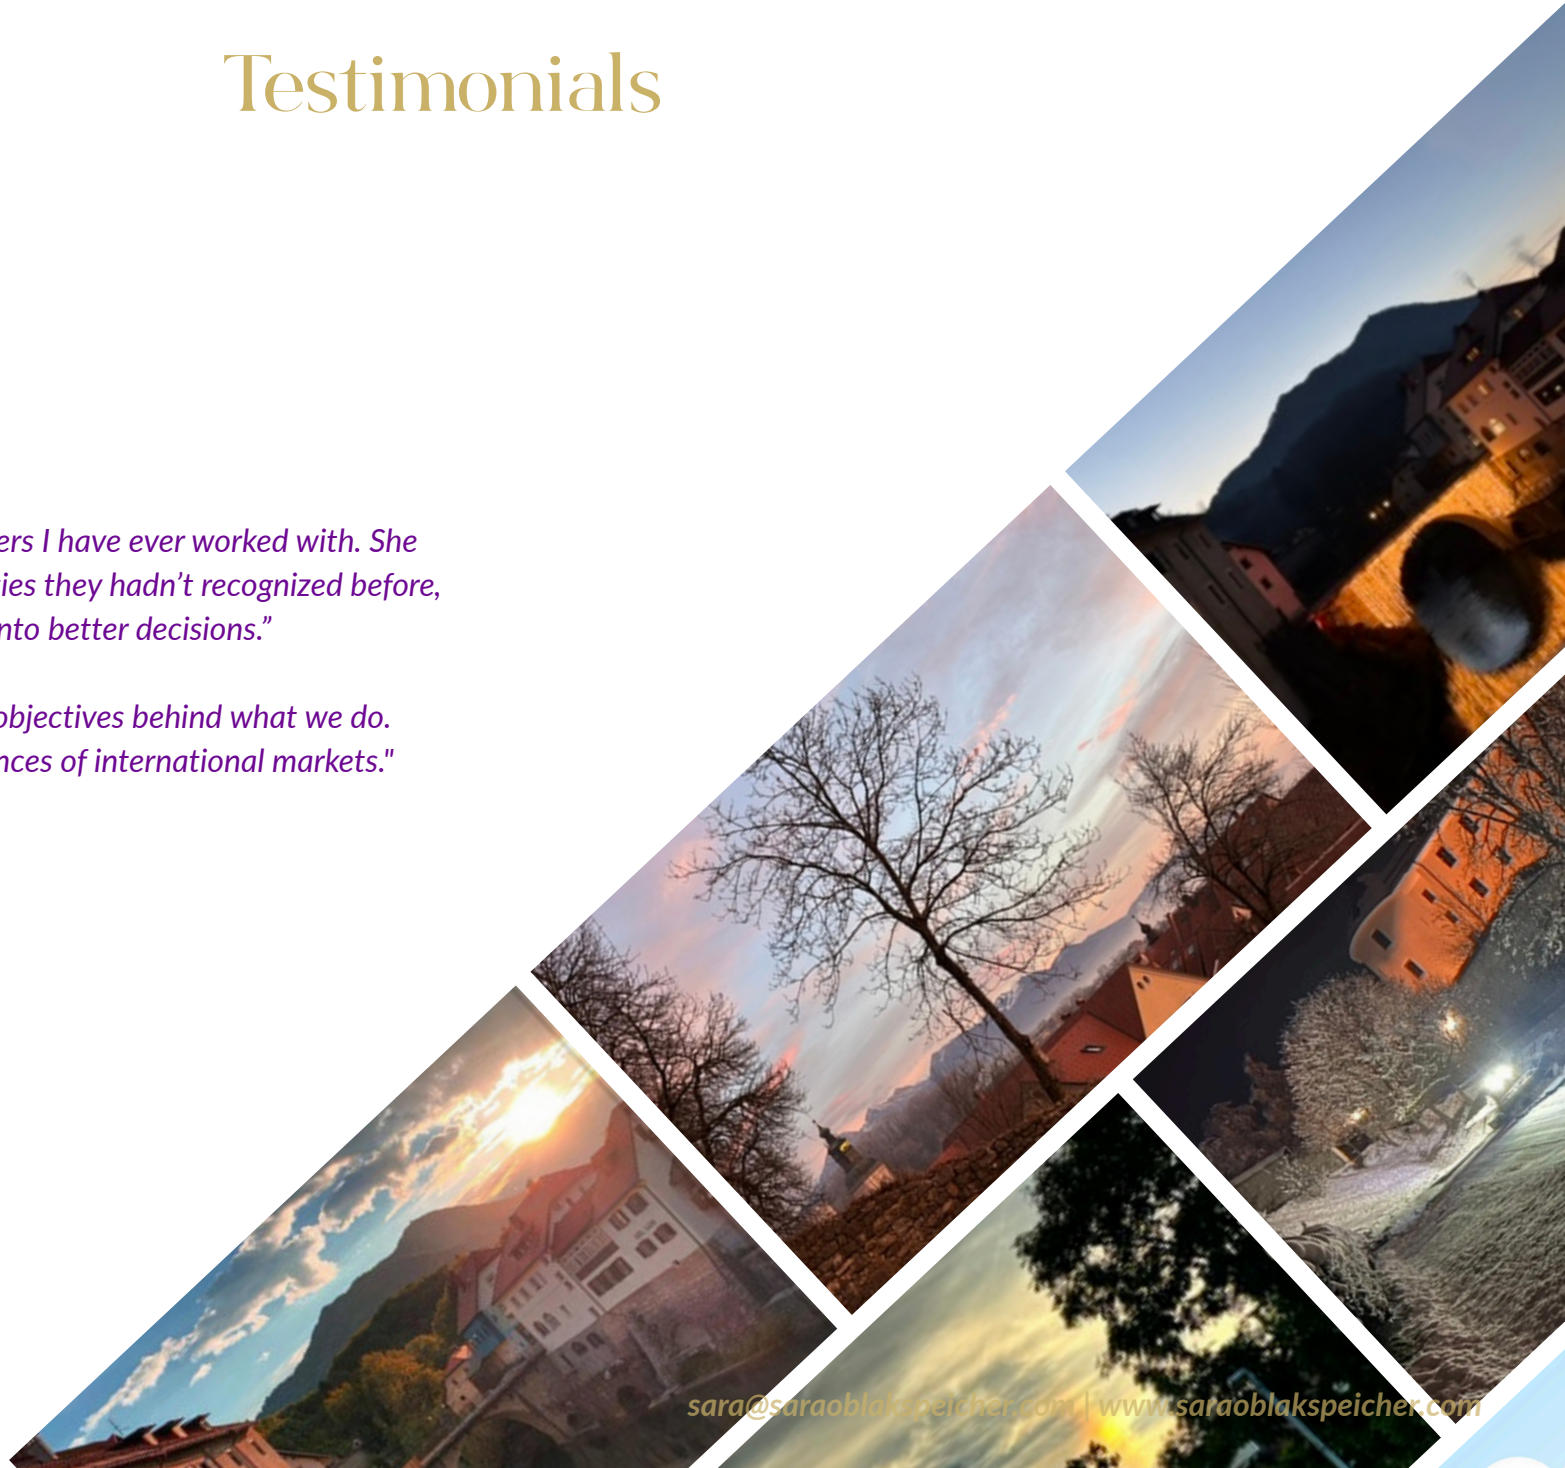

POST-RETREAT ANCHORING

30 days of direct advisory access to support the implementation and answer the high-stakes questions that arise as you deploy the new architecture.

Testimonials

"Sara is one of the most attentive listeners I have ever worked with. She helps leaders see patterns and possibilities they hadn't recognized before, creating clarity that translates directly into better decisions."

"Sara understands the tone, voice, and objectives behind what we do. She truly gets our business and the nuances of international markets."

Pathway 2:

REWRITE YOUR STORY

sara@saraoblakspeicher.com | www.saraoblakspeicher.com

Identity reclamation & narrative authority

Designed for the visionary at the threshold of their second act; who is no longer who they were, but has not yet fully architected who they are becoming. This is a deeper, more spacious frequency and a contained space to define who you are now (and who you are no longer willing to be).

THE WORK:

We audit your past narrative and identity “success traps” in order to minimize the friction. Then, we architect the voice, values, and vision for the version of you that is rising, whether that is for a zen-like private life or the global stage.

THE DELIVERABLES:

The Next-Chapter Dossier, a custom 10-page structural scaffolding that anchors your new identity into your business model, your public positioning, and your personal boundaries.

POST-RETREAT ANCHORING

30 days of advisory access to ensure the new narrative survives the gravity of the old life and integrates seamlessly into your real-world operations.

Testimonials

“Sara can help you get to the bottom of who you have to become to get where you want to go. It's a question with many deep layers to the answer.”

“Sara is a thoughtful, intelligent listener who truly rises to the top in a sea of superficial advisors. When someone is with her, they can feel her undeniable depth and will experience that rare feeling of being wholly understood for their value, fears, and dreams. The service she provides and the level of attention she gives her clients is evident. She is exactly the type of strategy partner any professional needs who is serious about their career ascent.”

Pathway 3:

THE GHOSTWRITING ATELIER

Story articulation & legacy narrative

Meant for the icon ready to codify their experience and body of work into content that heals, positions, and moves. The leader whose intellectual property is currently trapped in their head, unstructured, unmined, and unrecorded. We move from "internal noise" to an external manifesto of authority.

THE WORK:

You do not need to write. You lead, speak, and embody, while Sara translates what you know into language that holds weight externally. This is an extraction of your unique philosophy, your proprietary frameworks, or the core of your memoir. We archive the narratives that no longer serve you, and architect scaffolding of your future legacy.

THE DELIVERABLES:

- The foundational manuscript as the primary structure of your book or legacy memoir.
- The vision manifesto as a high-stakes positioning narrative that unifies your brand, your board, and your market.
- The strategic body of work as a codified framework of your proprietary methodology, ready for global scaling.

POST-RETREAT ANCHORING

30 days of private advisory access to ensure seamless and integrated transition.

Testimonials

“Sara didn’t just help me ‘write content.’ She helped me write myself back to life. Her process cut through every illusion, every facade, every old identity I was still clinging to. She guided me into the core of who I truly was and how to put that into words that moved people. Words that honored my fire. My voice. My work. My legacy. There were tears. Fears. Breakdowns. Breakthroughs. But she never flinched. Never left. She held my truth with precision and power—and then helped me translate it into a story that finally felt like mine.”

“After almost 25 years of working on this particular thing, and trying to find the words, it finally bloomed in all its magic. As I am with it I am in profound tears of awe and joy to see it come to life. Sara held the space to help make it happen. She believed when I forgot to believe. She never gave up when I was ready to do so. And she did this not only in person but energetically. I am excited to be me again.”

Nice to meet you

Strategic Advisor. Narrative Architect. Leadership Stabilizer.

I'm Sara Oblak Speicher, MBA, a former basketball player and National Team and NCAA D-1 team captain, journalist, and operations leader. Also a wife and mother.

For nearly two decades, I've lived and worked in New York, moving between boardrooms and birth stories, strategic planning and soul-led insight. That duality shaped my lens, priorities, and values, and has to this day remain the foundation of a boutique practice I first launched in 2012.

In the last few years alone, I have relocated my family and business back to Europe, and architected over $60M worth of client positioning and economic impact.
