

Private RESIDENCY

STRUCTURAL RESET • LEGACY ARCHITECTURE • TOTAL PIVOT

for Leaders, Executives, Founders & Elite Athletes

with Sara Oblak Speicher, MBA

You've held ten timelines at once. You've built, led, protected, and outpaced everyone's imagination. By all external metrics, you have won. But inside, the gears are grinding.

Whether the company is sold, the jersey is retired, or the priorities have shifted...you've reached a threshold. Most high-performers respond to this "space between" the only way they know how: more effort, more inputs, more pressure.

But at this level, more force only creates more friction.

Consider this when...

- The version of you that built this chapter can no longer sustainably lead the next one.
- Everything still works on paper, but decisions and responsibilities are taking more energy than they should.
- You are holding a business, team, family, or public role while privately navigating a major personal or professional shift.
- Your expertise and leadership have outgrown the systems currently supporting them.
- You are pivoting, expanding, restructuring, or reinventing, and do not want to make the next move from pressure, noise, or exhaustion.
- You need space to think clearly again before deciding what comes next.

Welcome

Welcome to a 1,000-year-old Alpine sanctuary designed for one purpose: the architecture of what's next.

The Private Residency in Škofja Loka, Slovenia, is a high-stakes recalibration for leaders who refuse to let their past achievements limit their future. Here, we reimagine, redesign and codify the underlying story, strategy, systems, and structure.

It is also an integral part of the Intervention - Architecture - Buildout ecosystem offered through my boutique practice.

My approach is forged at the intersection of elite athletics and the high-pressure and fast-moving ecosystem of New York City, grounded in my European outlook on life and human-first approach.

My priority is simple: ensuring the next level doesn't cost you more than it's worth.

INTERVENTIONS (Vip Day)

ARCHITECTURE (Private Residency)

BUILDOUT (Fractional Leadership)

Let this 1000-year-old space hold you

Distance changes what you can see, and what you're finally willing to decide.

Held in one of Europe's most energetically potent spaces, this is a pause with absolute intent. Between these 1,000-year-old stone walls, cobbled streets, pristine air and stillness of the Alps, the noise of your daily life evaporates.

As the "success traps" lose their grip, we gain the spaciousness required to see your life and business not as a series of fires to be extinguished, but as a cohesive monument ready for its next act.

The Residency delivers:

- Immediate stabilization
- Narrative architecture
- Structural scaffolding
- Post-retreat anchoring

It's time to build the foundation that actually holds you.

Pathway 1:

THE STRUCTURAL RESET

Strategic architecture & operational recalibration

Reserved for the leader hitting complexity ceiling and needs to redesign the HOW and WHAT. Whether you are relocating, retiring, or re-launching, we focus on the machinery of your world. Enjoying the spaciousness of this environment, we stabilize decision-making, realign strategic priorities, and reduce the operational noise that is currently costing you time, money, and clarity.

THE WORK:

3 days of high-intensity diagnostic and structural design. We realign your story, strategy, system, and structure.

THE DELIVERABLES:

You walk away with the custom strategic roadmap and an overhaul of your business model, positioning, and operational boundaries. Replacing decision fatigue with a restored capacity to lead, unwavering clarity, and courage to proceed ensure the investment pays for itself...

POST-RETREAT ANCHORING

Direct support with the implementation and to answer the high-stakes questions that arise as you deploy the new architecture.

This is also the most optimal structure for Quarterly and Annual Strategic Planning.

Testimonials

"Sara is one of the most attentive listeners I know. What makes her exceptional is her ability to meet people at the human level and help them see themselves with greater clarity. Her insight and awareness are truly genuine, and she creates space for clients to recognize strengths, patterns, and possibilities they may not have considered before. If you want to move through areas that have been holding you back and feel seen and supported in the process, I can't recommend Sara highly enough. Her caring perspective, sophistication, and grounded worldview make the work both impactful and meaningful." - Lori

"Sara understands the tone, voice, and objectives behind what we do. She truly gets our business and the nuances of international markets." - Peter

"Sara helps leaders see patterns and possibilities they hadn't recognized before, creating clarity that translates directly into better decisions." - Nicole

Pathway 2:

THE LEGACY ARCHITECTURE

Identity reclamation & narrative authority

Designed for the "space between" when the company is sold or the jersey is retired, or the direction no longer holds... and for the leader whose intellectual property is currently trapped in their head, unstructured, unmined, and unrecorded. Reimagining the possible and who you are becoming while extracting the value of where you've been, we move from "internal noise" to an external manifesto of authority.

THE WORK:

4 days of architecting the voice, values, and vision for who you are becoming while codifying your expertise into narratives that heal, position, and move... from a sellable IP to memoir outlines, or investment thesis.

THE DELIVERABLES:

The Next-Chapter Dossier, a custom 10-page structural scaffolding that anchors your new identity into your public positioning, personal boundaries, and legacy-defining format:

- The foundational manuscript as the primary structure of your book or legacy memoir.
- The vision manifesto as a high-stakes positioning narrative that unifies your brand, your board, and your market.
- The strategic body of work as a codified framework of your proprietary methodology, ready for global scaling.

POST-RETREAT ANCHORING

Private access to ensure the new narrative survives the gravity of the old life and integrates seamlessly into your real-world operations.

Testimonials

"Sara can help you get to the bottom of who you have to become to get where you want to go. It's a question with many deep layers to the answer." - Linda

"Sara is a thoughtful, intelligent listener who truly rises to the top in a sea of superficial advisors. When someone is with her, they can feel her undeniable depth and will experience that rare feeling of being wholly understood for their value, fears, and dreams. The service she provides and the level of attention she gives her clients is evident. She is exactly the type of strategy partner any professional needs who is serious about their career ascent." - Salwa

"The co-creation, synergy efficiencies, and dynamic Sara establishes transcend simple productivity gains, financial gains, and cost-saving (which alone are worth the investment and pretty much pay for it). She brings a whole new dimension into her client's life, business, boardroom, home." - Gary

Pathway 3:

THE TOTAL PIVOT ECOSYSTEM

Resolution of complexity & high-stakes realignment

This architecture of a new life and a new enterprise is designed for the leader whose pivot is so massive that the person and the organization must move in absolute unison, or the entire ecosystem risks a structural collapse.

THE WORK:

5 days of deep work to move your business and your identity so you don't self-sabotage. And to move your identity along with your systems, to ensure the business does not crush you.

THE DELIVERABLES:

Total system stabilization. We don't just plan; we stay in the "loop" until the new system is unshakeable. This includes relationship architecture (aligning board, family, and team).

POST-RETREAT ANCHORING

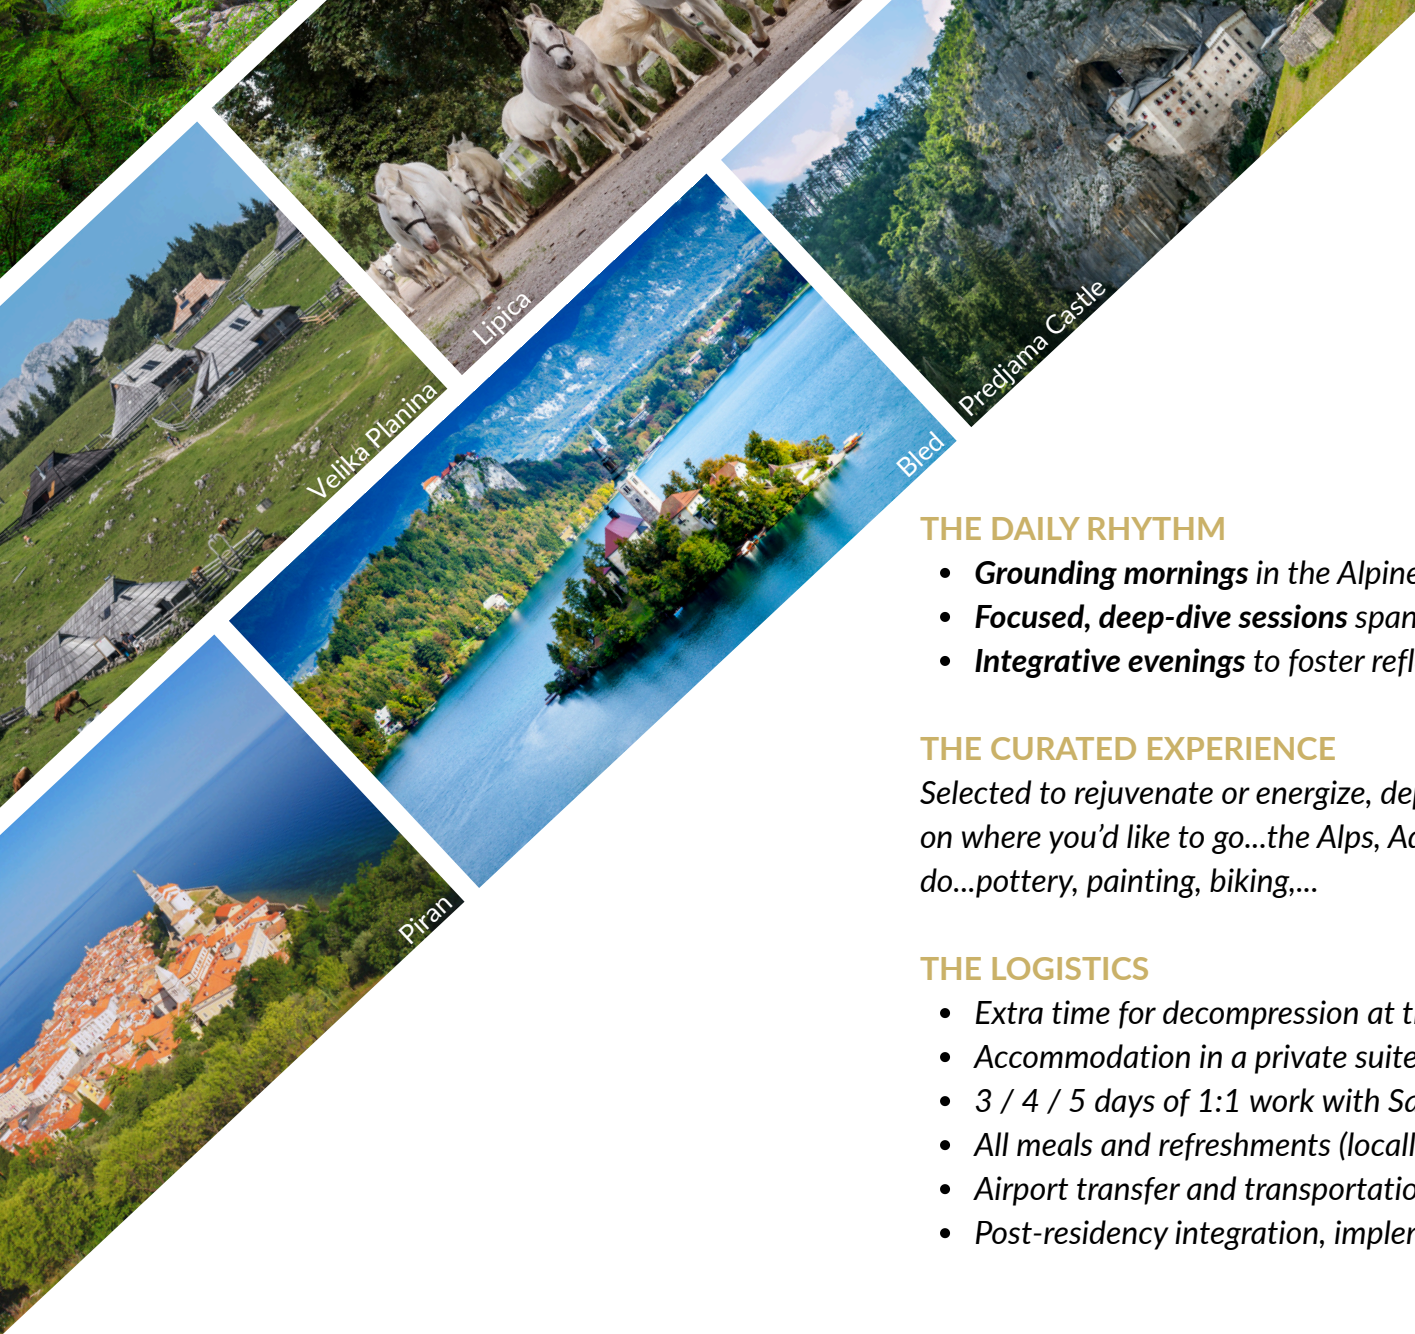

Private partnership and "shadow advisory" to preserve your stability as the tectonic plates shift.

Testimonials

"I had 2 coaches at the time I hired Sara. We started work. She lit me on fire. She never, ever, left me. We worked. I was a storm of trouble and effect and questions. Sara cut me open... And I was able to choose a new way. The way of freedom and creativity. The way of faith and inspired action. The way I really want to work. My heart is sprouting green again- after the fire burned everything away that didn't belong. I am alive. I have a reinvented relationship to myself and my work and most of all my living. The past is sleep, and part of my glorious way forward. Work is becoming play. And I am worth it. I have new clients; I am getting paid the fees I deserve. And dear reader, so are you. Hire Sara, but only if you are ready to surrender EVERYTHING that doesn't belong. Trust, commit, and watch what happens as this woman does her work. Watch your life ignite- and breathe the clean air of self-respect, inspiration, and confidence again." - Craig

"After almost 25 years of working on this particular thing, and trying to find the words, it finally bloomed in all its magic. As I am with it I am in profound tears of awe and joy to see it come to life. Sara held the space to help make it happen. She believed when I forgot to believe. She never gave up when I was ready to do so. And she did this not only in person but energetically. I am excited to be me again." - Harmony

Nice to meet you

Strategic Advisor. Narrative Architect. Leadership Stabilizer.

I'm Sara Oblak Speicher, MBA, a former basketball player and National Team and NCAA D-1 team captain, journalist, and operations leader. Above all, wife and mother.

For nearly twenty years, I've lived and worked in the New York City ecosystem, moving between boardrooms and birth stories, strategic planning and soul-led insight. That duality shaped my lens, priorities, and values, and has to this day remain the foundation of a boutique practice I first launched in 2011.

In the last few years alone, I have relocated my family and business back to Europe, and architected over $60M worth of client identity, market positioning and economic impact.
